HELP !!!

ONE of SFBC's best sources of new subscribers are members' introductions, recommendations and gift enrolments. The result of any kind of ordinary publicity, like press advertising, is always doubtful, whereas the approval of members is something to be relied upon and has played a main part in keeping SFBC alive and flourishing. If the club is to continue and improve, it needs a constantly growing membership, and this is where you can be of great help.

We have recently expanded our reward scheme to include not only free books but also a selection of Conway Stewart fountain-pens. You can choose either a

CONWAY STEWART No. 67 FOUNTAIN-PEN

a particularly good choice for someone who writes a great deal. It is made in four colours—black, red, green and blue—has a 'Silvasheen' cap, a 'Pressac' filling mechanism and a 14-carat gold nib,* which can be either fine, medium, broad or oblique. It is an elegant, sturdy pen, one to give good service. (Retail price 32s 6d.)

or a CONWAY STEWART No. 14 PEN AND PENCIL SET

The matching fountain-pen and pencil (or ball-point pen, if you prefer it) have a plain cap and barrel in a choice of colours — black, red, green or blue; the fountain-pen has the 'Pressac' filling mechanism and a strong gold nib,* smooth and flexible in writing.

The complete set is good-looking in design and very well packaged. (Retail price 30s.)

These appeals for help must be very boring things to read, and we can only hope that you will bear with them patiently and, above all, act upon them. With a thriving membership we can do our part better, making sure that the books selected for SFBC are of the highest standard. We have provided an enrolment form below, with space for your reward claim. And thank you for patience and help.

* If your first choice of nib is not the right one for you, you can alter it by returning the pen within 28 days to Conway Stewart, 196 Great Cambridge Road, Enfield.
